

Charles “Dolph” Church

I graduated from the University of Utah in 1985 with a BA in mathematics and a minor teaching endorsement in chemistry. I also earned an MEd in Educational Administration from the University of Utah in 1990.

I taught math and science class in grades seven through ten for eleven years; I taught one year at West Jordan High School in the Jordan School District and ten years at Hillcrest Junior High School in the Murray School District.

In 1997, I was hired as the Assistant Principal at Hillcrest Junior High in the Murray School district. Additionally, I worked as an Assistant Principal for the Murray School District at Riverview Junior High and Murray High school. In total, I worked as an Assistant Principal for ten years at the middle school level and thirteen years at the high school level.

I retired in July of 2020 and have been working part time as a substitute teacher for the Murray School District and the Jordan School District for the last two years.
